

WASH. POST, 1933

MAY 17 1933

Portrait Is Unveiled

Guests flocked to the penthouse of the La Salle Apartments last evening to see the unveiling of a portrait of well-known journalist Achsah Dorsey Smith (Mrs. Lawrence Smith).

Artist Mrs. Robertson Marshall, who paints under the name of Lucile Robertson, was hostess at the 6 to 8 o'clock buffet. Mrs. Marshall, who studied in Paris and formerly had a studio in Florence, Italy, painted the portrait for Mrs. Smith's parents, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Benjamin H. Dorsey.

Among those at the party were the Austrian Ambassador and Mrs. Karl Gruber, the Bolivian Ambassador and Mme. Andrade, the Chinese Minister and Mme. Tan, the Colombian Ambassador and Senora Zuleta-Angel, the Ecuadorian Ambassador, the Ambassador of El Salvador and Senora de Castro, the Minister of Iceland and Mme. Thors, the Irish Ambassador and Mrs. Hearne, the New Zealand Ambassador and Mme. Munro, the Norwegian Ambassador and Mme. Morgenstierne and the South African Ambassador and Mrs. Holloway.

Others there were Mr. Leslie Biddle, Associate Justice and Mrs. Harold H. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barton, Lt. Gen. and Mrs. Charles C. Cabell, M. and Mme. Camille Chautemps, Count and Countess N. de Rochefort, Mrs. Smith's parents, Rear Admiral and Mrs. Dorsey; and Mr. and Mrs. Dorsey, jr.